SUMMONS.

In the District Court of the Third Judicial District, in and for Salt Lake County, State of Utah.

Maranna C. Stratford, plaintiff, vs. John Doe Crandall, whose first name is unknown, a surviving husband of Luella C. Crandall, deceased, and all of the unknown heirs of said Luella C. Crandall, deceased, defendants.—Summons.

The State of Utah to the said defendants:

You are hereby summoned to appear within twenty days after the service of this summons upon you, if served within the County in which this action is brought, otherwise, within thirty days after service, and defend the above entitled action; and in case of your failure so to do, judgment will be rendered against you according to the demands of the complaint, which has been filed with the clerk of said court.

It is alleged in the complaint that the plaintiff is the owner in fee simple of the following described premises located in Salt Lake City, Salt Lake County, State of Utah, to-wit:

All of Lot 7, Block 34, Plat "E" Salt Lake City Survey; situate in the northeast quarter of the northeast quarter of Section 36, Township 1 north, Range 1 West of the Salt Lake Meridian.

That on the 26th day of July, 1892, Daniel G. McGinley, plaintiff's remote grantor, made and delivered to Luella C. Crandall, a mortgage upon said premises to secure the payment of $650 due July 26, 1893. Said mortgage was recorded in Book 22, Page 190, of the records of Salt Lake County, State of Utah; that said mortgage has been fully paid and satisfied, but that the said Luella C. Crandall failed and neglected to cause the same to be discharged of record.

That afterward Luella C. Crandall died leaving the said John Doe Crandall, her surviving husband and others as her heirs at law; that plaintiff is not informed of the first name of said John Doe Crandall, and is unable to ascertain the same, and is not informed of the names of the other heirs at law of said Luella C. Crandall, deceased; that said mortgage constitutes a cloud upon plaintiff's title.

It is prayed that the Court make and enter its judgment that the said mortgage be declared satisfied and discharged of record; that the cloud on plaintiff's title be removed, and for costs of action.

Said complaint is duly verified.

HARRIMAN LINES INCREASE FACILITIES.

That Pocatello coast industries will benefit largely by increased facilities, provided on the Harriman lines to avoid as far as possible a repetition of last year's delays in freight movement, is shown by information obtained today from officials of these lines. Last year's enormous increase in demands upon the carriers indicates what this year's requirements will be. From a tonnage of 32,000,000 in July, 1905, the southbound lumber movement on the Southern Pacific lines in Oregon to points outside the state jumped to 73,400,000 tons in June, 1906, an increase of 826 carloads, or 129 per cent. The eastbound tonnage in the same time increased from 13,000,000 tons to nearly 32,000,000. This unprecedented gain of more than 60,000,000 tons in a single commodity was responsible for delays that have occurred in spite of arrangements made in advance to handle an expected increase in the lumber business.

New freight-car equipment on the associated lines of the Union and Southern Pacific and the Oregon lines, delivered since last June and ordered for delivery by the end of this month, amounts to:

| | New Cars | Total |
|-------------------|----------|--------|
| Union Pacific | 3,852 | 18,335 |
| Oregon Short Line | 2,200 | 8,291 |
| Oregon R. and N. | 600 | 3,282 |
| Pacific System | 3,969 | 29,687 |

The increase in car capacity on the Harriman lines on June 30 will be 535,050 tons. This, with existing equipment, gives these lines a total freight car capacity of 2,720,776 tons. New trackage and motive power have kept pace with this increase in rolling stock.

The pooling arrangement in force on these lines means that their cars are "at home" anywhere on their rails, and equipment can be diverted from one line to the other, wherever it is most needed. Last year the San Francisco disaster complicated the transportation problem on the Pacific coast, and it was made still more difficult to handle by the fact that eastern lines were unable to furnish their quota of equipment for business originating in this territory.—Pocatello Tribune.

OUT OF GREAT TRIBULATION.

To look on with patience at inevitable suffering often requires more courage than to endure it. But when the spirit rises to the height where it can see even the pain-racked life it loves as part of a divine plan,—mysterious but gracious,—there is no finer heroism in the world.

A working man found that his eyesight was failing, and presently he became totally blind. He was in middle life, and physically in full vigor. He had a small income, and he and his wife left the city of their birth, took a tiny cottage in a village, and began adjusting their lives to the new conditions.

In a year another blow fell. Complete deafness came upon him. So, cut off from sight and sound, he took up the strange, solitary life which the blind and deaf must lead.

He speedily developed a splendid temper—more active than resignation and more peaceful than hope. His countenance was not gloomy, but radiant. "You will perhaps think that I get tired of doing nothing," he wrote, "but the time is too short for all I want to do."

He began to learn the world anew by the senses of smell and touch. Out of this new knowledge, and the meditation which his condition forced upon him, he built up a wonderful belief in the goodness and the wisdom of God.

Beside him in all the months of fierce trial stood his wife. Every pang he felt was a sword-thrust in her loving heart. Every perplexity for him was doubly dark for her. Even the ordinary domestic life had its duties trebled for her; for she must do his tasks and her own, and must find time and strength to serve his needs, to guide his darkened steps, and to speak to his spirit, in spite of the sealed ears.

But out of the fiery trial she came like one transfigured. She learned to see his pain through his own patience. She moved as one who bears aloft a torch. She spoke as if she sang. The woman who had been always a devoted and cheerful wife became a heroine and saint.

As one saw her, one realized for the first time the full meaning of the words, "These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb."
